Welcome...

to the April/May edition. As I write this we have just had a few lovely, warm sunny days and it finally feels like spring is on the way (that is until I look at the weather forecast for the coming week!)

We were lucky enough to have lovely weather for our Anglia Print volunteering day with River Waveney Trust where we all took part in a litter pick at Bungay Tin River. Split into two groups, 7 bags of rubbish as well as a pile of other litter too big to fit in the bin bags our group collected, the other half of the team collected just as much!

Chantry Place are holding a 'cracking' Easter event with lots of activities (see page 13) and the fabulous Norwich Games Festival is back at The Forum in May (see page 21)

Why not check out Norfolk County Council Adult Learning Masterclasses, the courses provide an excellent opportunity to learn something new or hone your existing skills. The courses take place in a friendly and informal environment and are led by expert and supportive tutors. www.norfolk.gov.uk/adultlearning

The lovely Rosie from Paws Indoors is here with tips to help us spot when our furry friends are in pain (page 7)

Here's hoping we can all grab some vitamin D and enjoy being outdoors, Until next time....

Beccles Lido is launching its summer season, re-opening heated to 28°C for the summer until the end of September.

Nothing beats swimming outdoors or relaxing by the pool. The Lido has a springboard, regular giant inflatable sessions, separate heated toddler and paddling pools and a children's adventure play.

There are grassy areas with sunloungers and picnic tables to relax on, and two all-weather eating and spectating areas, plus a cafe serving hot and cold snacks, drinks and ice creams.

With lane swimming early mornings and evenings, regular aquacise classes and fun sessions in between, Beccles Lido is perfect for a swim or family outing.

The Lido is next to the River Waveney, the gateway to the Broads, so you can also take to the water. There is a wide selection of hire craft available to explore this idyllic stretch of river, including canoes, kayaks and paddleboards.

From Beccles Lido you can also take a relaxing trip on Big Dog Ferry to the Locks Inn Community Pub in Geldeston. Enjoy the wildlife enroute, including otters, kingfishers, swans with their cygnets and marsh harriers. Stay on board for a round trip, disembark to enjoy a meal drink or music, or take a one way ticket and walk back on delightful riverside footpaths.

Are events more your thing? Beccles Lido and their partner BLUE Events host many swimming related events during the year, starting off with a 24 and 12 hour swim in April. With a 30 minute swim, followed by 30 minute recovery, it's a great test of endurance. They also host an annual triathlon, aquathlon and aquabike, plus a river swim in June.

Booking is recommended for all activities. For more details timetables and to book all activities, please visit www.bestdaysoutinBECCLES.co.uk

How do I know if my pet is in pain

Nobody likes the thought that their pet may be in pain, but symptoms are often missed or are put down to aging changes or even naughtiness.

Look out for the following Changes in behaviour

Less playing, running, fetching, jumping.
More snapping or growling.
Restlessness in the evening.
Reluctance to go for a walk or get in the car.

A change in posture.

A change in the way your pet stands, sits or lies. Have a look back through your phone and see if your pet's posture has changed.

Capability and gait changes. Pets will walk more slowly, or unevenly, although you won't often see an actual limp - if both hips or elbow hurt, then holding up one leg doesn't help. Pets become less active, spend more time in their bed and avoid jumping or going up stairs.

Change in physical appearance.

Muscle loss is not so obvious under a furry coat, but may be easier to feel. Dog often have increased bulk around the shoulders, to try and take the weight off sore hips and knees. Cats may have a matted coat around their back and tail, as it hurts their back to twist and groom.

If you are concerned about changes in your pet's activity or movement, Paws Indoors offers kind, professional guidance to make a difference.

There are so many choices for getting creative together, from a world of magic to an egg hunt and sensory stories. What will you choose? All Easter holiday workshops are either free or pay what you can.

Step into the world of magic, laughter and joy with Peachy & Me (10 & 11 Apr). Join the delightful duo Cherry & Peachy for an enchanting performance that combines comedy, dance, and interactive fun, offering an unforgettable experience for audiences of all ages. This show is Free for Families! As part of our Creative Families programme, Norwich Theatre is offering an exciting lineup of shows, sneak peeks, and interactive experiences designed for families to enjoy together.

Want more magic? Come along to the free Peachy & Me: Family Workshop (10 Apr), where you learn some magic tricks, explore clowning and let your imagination soar. Suitable for ages 7 – 11 with their grown-ups.

For a twist on the classic tale, We're going on an Egg Hunt! (11 Apr) uses storytelling, props, movements, and fun games. You and your little one will go on an imaginative stroll together through the farm, collecting eggs and meeting friends along the way—the best part is, you can leave your wellies at home!

Sensory Stories for SEND (10 Apr) is a creative session designed specifically for disabled and neurodiverse young people and their grown-ups. This session will be accessible for non-verbal children, guiding the group through a journey of imagination and play in a relaxed, supportive Unleash your child's inner performer with Play in a Day (17 Apr). This is a relaxed and playful way to explore theatre, where the group will work together to create a short, original play to share with family. This is a Pay What You Can system for this session. This means everyone is welcome to enjoy the session.

Sam Dawson, Head of Creative Engagement, said: "These workshops and shows are part of Norwich Theatre's Creative Families programme, which provides free and affordable activities. Running throughout the year, they provide families with much-needed access to creative experiences at a time when the cost-of-living crisis challenges so many. We are hugely grateful for the support we have received to make this happen."

Creative Families activities take place each school holiday and are generously supported by Alan Boswell Group Charitable Trust, The Geoffrey Watling Charity, the Simon Gibson Charitable Trust, and The Educational Foundation of Alderman John Norman.

Massage Training Institute at Inner Space

The Very Best Massage
Courses.....Creating the Very Best Massage Therapists!

The Massage Training Institute (MTI) was created by a group of dedicated and inspirational massage tutors in 1988 as no accrediting bodies at the time offered an holistic approach. MTI quickly became a highly esteemed organisation following key values of integrity, sensitivity and creativity - values still strong in the courses offered at MTI schools around the country.

Inner Space has been the home of the MTI for over 20 years and offers both Introductory courses and a Diploma course.

Our Introduction to Massage courses will be held on May 24/25th, July 26/27th and September 13/14th 2025. Here you will learn how to give a full massage to family and friends and it is ideal for couples to attend together.

The Introduction course is also a great way to discover if a career in massage therapy is for you without having to commit to a Diploma first.

The MTI Diploma in Holistic Massage is a level 4 professional qualification which includes study of anatomy, physiology and pathology as well as massage techniques. For more details contact Inner Space - Email: massage@innerspacenorwich.co.uk or call 07802 744894

One Self: The Creative Life of Colin Self at Norwich Castle

The first major retrospective of Colin Self's work in 17 years is on show at Norwich Castle from 29 March – 21 September 2025. Containing 130 works of art, it celebrates the boundless creative spirit of an artist whose dedication to his work spans over six decades. Encompassing his famous early work as a major figure in the Pop art movement of the 1960s, the exhibition charts his subsequent artistic course, showcasing some of his lesser-known work, with many works on display for the first time.

Norwich Castle is part of Norfolk Museums Service, consisting of ten museums across the county. The Castle itself is currently undergoing a major redevelopment project, transforming the iconic Norman Keep by reinstating the layout of the medieval period and making all of the floors accessible. The new museum entrance is already open with the new light-filled atrium housing the new shop and cafe. The Castle Keep itself is planned to reopen in all its medieval glory later in the year.

Free workshops for brand new RSC co-production announced at Norwich Theatre

Norwich Theatre has announced free adult workshops for a bold new Community Co-Production to be performed this autumn. The co-production is a collaboration between Norwich Theatre and the Royal Shakespeare Company (RSC) and will tell the untold stories of our local communities. Norwich Theatre is one of six regional theatres to partner with the Royal Shakespeare Company (RSC) on Shakespeare Nation. Through Shakespeare Nation, Norwich Theatre are reaching out to communities around the county creating opportunities for people to discover the relevance of Shakespeare's stories to their lives today.

Sam Beal, Creative Engagement & Audiences Manager said: "This is a really unique opportunity to get involved and tell your story, and we cannot wait to start working with our communities, and see the piece take shape!"

The journey starts with a series of free introductory sessions – Intro to Shakespeare, Voice and Language, Writing – part of Norwich Theatre's Shakespeare Saturdays led by RSC practitioners. These workshops introduce or reintroduce Shakespeare's work in a fun, low-pressure environment.

Come along and raise a toast to the bard himself on his birthday Welcome Evening: Shakespeare Nation (23 Apr). Watch project films, hear stories from past productions, and explore a new exhibition of community stories.

You will also have the opportunity to learn more about our plans for the production and how you can get involved and take part as a Citizen Theatre Maker.

There are four Citizen Theatre Makers groups open to anyone over 18: Community Folk, a relaxed musical group for all ages celebrating our heritage and hopes for the future; Stories in Motion, a movement-based group exploring what happens when culture, tradition, and dance are woven together; Storytellers, a group crafting new narratives through writing and performance; and Women in Shakespeare, a group for women 50+ reclaiming the roles of Ophelia and Gertrude. All of the groups are completely free to attend but need to be booked. These workshops go on sale on 14 Mar.

The groups will initially work on their own part of the production before coming together to form a community company for a new production, taking place in Norwich Theatre's venues and beyond this autumn.

Sam Beal added: "This production will be an innovative, brave, inclusive work born of communities, which is really exciting. We've never done anything quite like this, and I cannot wait to see the incredible stories our Citizen Theatre Makers will tell."

For more information or to book, visit norwichtheatre.org or call the Box Office on 01603 630 000.

J H ROOFING SOLUTIONS

★★★★★ 5 Star Reviews

"Jamie is well experienced in the roofing business, and his customer friendly and helpful attitude also gives confidence in his work. He'll certainly be my only call for any future repairs needed."

"Once again, J H Roofing Solutions did a great job, despite being hampered by the bad weather we've had recently. They visited the house in advance in order to make sure we were watertight and then completed the work as soon as the weather was dry enough. I said in my previous review that I would have no hesitation in using J H Roofing again and that remains the case. Jamie and Charlie are professional and pleasant to deal with and do a great job."

30 Days Wild

Norfolk Wildlife Trust (NWT) are encouraging people to go wild this June by participating in the UK's biggest nature challenge, 30 Days Wild.

Participants can sign up for a free pack filled with fun goodies and nature-inspired activities from The Wildlife Trusts, along with a challenge to undertake a random act of wildness every day throughout June. It's a great way to get kids adventuring outdoors this summer, as well as a way for grownups to take a moment with nature and improve wellbeing.

Going wild this summer can be something as small as noticing nature on your commute, to birdwatching on an NWT reserve, to gardening with your local community.

You don't have to live in the countryside to take part, opportunities to go wild can be found everywhere from a city park to a coastal path. If you want to get yourself or the kids outdoors and connecting with nature more, 30 Days Wild is the perfect place to start!

30 Days Wild is now in its 11th year of connecting people to nature. Taking part is proven to improve health, happiness and mindfulness, with previous participants reporting feeling more relaxed and less stressed after taking part. 30 Days Wild is great for the planet's health too, with participants much more connected to and motivated to protect nature. To sign up to take part in 30 Days Wild and receive your free pack, head to: norfolkwildlifetrust.org.uk/30DaysWild. Schools, care homes and businesses can also take part, receiving a specially-designed pack filled with activities.

Richard Penguin's Musical Triangle

The opening of a new venue and starting up of a new monthly night have been a great addition to the music scene in Norwich recently. The Holloway, by day a bookshop, occasionally by night a venue, played host to another welcome return gig by one of Norwich's finest bands of this century Feral Mouth. While they are currently playing as an acoustic quartet sans Bristol based drummer Peds they have only lost a little bit of their energetic live set of the past. The informal seated and relaxed in a small venue rapport with one another and with the audience approach suits them well. Most of the old favourites were retained. Those lively instrumentals of old in the form of 'Number 62', and 'Nelson's County Breakdown' and the intricately played one's such as 'Diniler' with Gareth's deft banjo lines rubbed shoulders with covers by frontman JP's favourite songwriters in the form of Townes Van Zandt and Gillian Welch. ...And then there's his plethora of great songs. From the hauntingly beautiful love song 'Everything' with subtle harmonies and cello from John, the upbeat tunes of 'Tatters' and '100 kinds of Lonely' with their almost hallmark JP contradictory downbeat lyrics that are also notable on 'Genghis' with Luke's Double bass and JP's robust guitar prominent, through to the thought provoking 'Leaves', and the heart-breaking 'The Window. With some fine new songs and tunes as well the Feral's are still formidable. Wherever and whenever you can go and see them.

Fantastic local folk musician Georgia Shackleton has also set up a monthly Monday night folk gig upstairs at the restaurant Yalm with the superb pop folk dextrous duo Good Habits being the guests there in March. Singing cellist Bonnie and accordionist and stomp box man Pete mixed original compositions encompassing themes of nature through to a love song for a fridge with some intriguing covers and adaptations including 'Running up that hill' and a mesmerising rendition of the Who's 'Baba O'Reilly' with those hypnotic synth and violin lines played on the accordion and cello deftly. Their penchant for pop from the past surfaced throughout with equally unusual renditions of 'Praise you' and they concluded with the Stone Roses classic 'She Bangs the Drum'. Great originals, and uniquely arranged covers they are a duo well worth investigating.

SOME NEW ALBUM NEWS- Steve Tilston- Last Call – more than 50 years after his debut album Steve released his final album in March. Musically it takes in Folk, Blues and Jazz influences with an assortment of guests contributing and Steve's rolling guitar lines as fluent as ever. Lyrically there are autobiographical, political and social commentary songs and it is as good as any of his previous albums. Christina Alden and Alex Patterson- Safe Travels- They previewed many of the songs for the album in December at the Arts centre and return there for their album launch on April 10th. I commented in the last issue that it would be an album to look out for and the new single 'Our house' written by Christina about growing up in a musical household may well be their finest moment so far.

Paul Armfield- Between The Covers- On his 9th album Isle of Wight based songwriter and bookseller Paul combines his love of literature and music with 9 songs about books, 5 original and 4 covers, hence the clever title. The single 'Books Beside my Bed' has a truly amazing video to accompany it that I would urge you to investigate. The originals name-check many an author in between the covers, many of which are well known, but delivered in Paul's languid and laid back style. Worth investigating he is playing in Norwich at The Holloway on the day of the albums release May 16th.

SOME GIGS IN NORWICH FOR APRIL + MAY- ANTEROS- May 9th Adam Beattie and Fiona Bevan, 10th Mark Harrison.
